Identify the word component and substitute are consider to have same meaning. But in phase the word component have distinctly different meaning than constituent.

The number of component in the system is called chemically independent constituents by means which the composition of every phase can be expressed either directly or by of chemical equilibrium. Water system in which liquid water, solid ice and water vapor all three phases present the composition by single substance  $H_2O$ . i.e.  $H_2O$  is sufficient to express the composition of all three phases. Hence water system has one component system, i.e.  $C=1$ .

Consider the system like  $CaCO_3$ ,  $MgCO_3$ .
